

Abstract

Formulations of glucocorticoids alone and in combination with anecortave acetate are useful for preventing and treating pathologic ocular angiogenesis and associated edema.

5